Although we may not have heard from her in some time, Brandy is making a comeback. She was featured on Tyrese's *Black Rose album last year and is currently starring in her own TV show on BET, *Zoe Ever After. After it's triumphant debut last night, Brandy loudly released her new song "Beggin & Pleadin" via SoundCloud. A clear ode to old school R&B with touches of jazz reminiscent of Ray Charles, Brandy sings about an ex-lover, over tight string guitars and pianos, "Told you walk out that door and you can keep your last name..." It is said to be based on a true story, Brandy's true story of her failed relationship with ex-fiancé Ryan Press. Take a listen for yourself.
